1.30pm Finances – What, why and how?

Amanda Harris, Manager (Education), Moore Kingston Smith

“Rule No. 1: Never lose money. Rule No. 2: Never forget Rule No. 1.”

Warren Buffett

Each school has its own character and ethos, but one thing we all share is a need to understand the business imperatives and have confidence in working with the Bursar and the Governors on matters of finance. The commercial sensitivities of a school’s finances are such that experience of dealing with the core processes and challenges that might arise is not easy to gain unless you are in post. This session provides an opportunity to share expertise. A practical exercise with a real set of accounts will raise interesting questions and Amanda will give advice, guidance and an insight into an auditor’s perspective – always useful!
